

European Biomethane Fuel Final Conference

Göteborg - Sweden

7 - 9
september
2009

Welcome to exhibit at European Biomethane Fuel Conference

The 7th to 9th of September Biogas Väst is arranging the final conference, European Biomethane Fuel Conference, in the EU project Biogasmax. Biogasmax is an integrated project within the 6th Framework Program, which aims to demonstrate biogas as a vehicle fuel on the European market. The project started 2006 and around 30 partners from 8 European countries are involved, including the city of Gothenburg.

The final conference will take place at Storan in Gothenburg, Sweden, and will include 6 workshops, 3 study tours and mingle. Project participants, businesses, organizations and politicians from Sweden and Europe will be speaking at the conference.

The conference provides a unique opportunity to meet, discuss and influence politicians, policy makers, officials and companies on both a Swedish and European level.

The conference gives your company a unique opportunity to profile and promote your company and your products.

Objectives and audience

300-400 participants. The target audience is politicians, policy makers, officials and companies mainly from Europe, but also from other parts of the world.

Exhibitors
